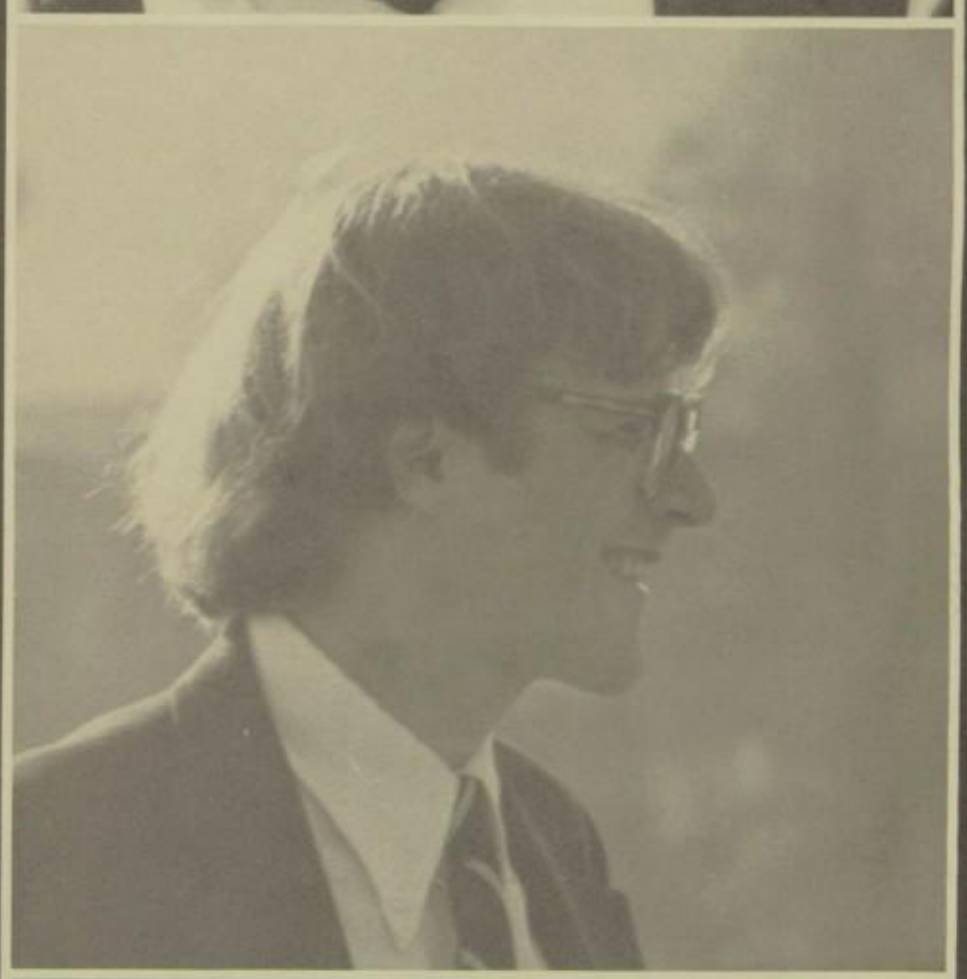
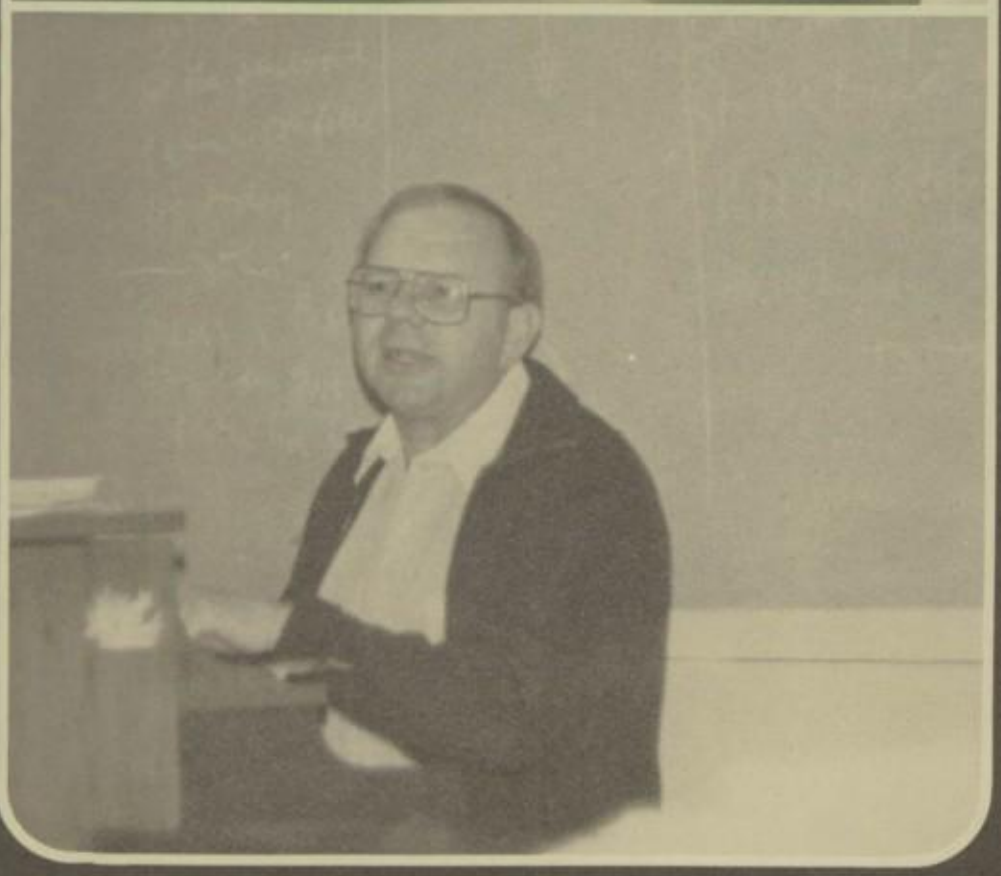
1984 EL ESPEJO





When the class of '84 first came here almost four years years ago, Webb was an all-boys school with an academic yet relaxed atmosphere. There were A.P.I. (American Political Institutions), Individual Humanities, Spanish I, and of course Dr. Fast's announcements in assembly. These things might never change at Webb, but certainly a lot of things have changed in the course of a few years.

Weekends were spent dodging the firsts of upper classmen, and we never entered the Alamo — without pain, shaving cream, toothpaste, Magic Marker, and the dreaded Ink Treatment. It was easier for day boys to get off campus but harder to get out of study hall.

In our sophomore year we gained thirty Vivian Webb girls, a new pass system, some new faculty, and more students than Webb had ever had before. Unfortunately, we lost a strong and united senior class and a lot of school spirit along with it.

In our junior year, the school was filled to capacity with more boarders and twice as many girls as before. Over the summer some of the dorms had been painted and the computer room was completely refurbished with new Apple II's.

The major change this year is dorm desegregation, an attempt to improve school spirit and reduce hazing. Class for the most part has turned to dorm rivalry, and dorm raids are once again becoming popular.

Again the school has made the rules stricter. Day students may no longer leave the campus before 4:15, and pass procedures are becoming enforced. The school calendar is more crowded this year, and there are more activities than ever for students.

The prism I hold in my hand, rightly understood, may throw light on the structure of the farthest sun; the fossil I dug out on the mountainside this morning, rightly studied, may throw light on the structure and meaning of the hand that unearths it; between the life that moved in the creature that plowed in the mud of the lake-shores three million years ago and the life which beats in my brain and moves in my eyes here in the sunshine today, I can see long unbroken lines of connection.

Lord, make us instruments of your peace. Where there is hatred, let us sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; where there is sadness, joy. Grant that we may not so much seek to be consoled as to console; to be understood as to understand; to be loved as to love. For it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned; and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life. Amen.

O, Lord, you have examined my heart and know everything about me. You know when I sit or stand. When far away you know my every thought. You chart the path ahead of me, and tell me where to stop and rest. Every moment, you know where I am. You know what I am going to say even before I even say it. You both precede and follow me, and place your hand of blessing on my head.

Search me, O God, and know my heart; test my thoughts. Point out anything you find in me that makes you sad, and lead me along the path of everlasting life.

The absence of romance in my history will, I fear, detract somewhat from its interest; but if it be judged useful by those inquirers who desire an exact knowledge of the past as an aid to the interpretation of the future, which in the course of human things must resemble if it does not reflect it, I shall be content. In fine, I have written my work not as an essay which is to win the applause of the moment, but as a possession for all time.

Since brass, nor stone, nor earth, nor boundless sea,
But sad mortality o'ersways their power,
How with this rage shall beauty hold a plea,
Whose action is no stronger than a flower?
O, how shall summer's honey breath hold out
Against the wrackful siege of batt'ring days,
When rocks impregnable are not so stout,
Nor gates of steel so strong but Time decays?
O, fearful meditation, where, alack,
Shall Time's best jewel from Time's chest lie hid?
Or what strong hand can hold his swift foot back,
Or who his spoil of beauty can forbid?
O, none, unless this miracle have might,

The founding headmistress of Vivian Webb School, Ann R. Longley, has been an integral part of the formation of the school. Beginning as a trustee in 1978, Ann Longley has dedicated herself to the establishment of an institution maintaining the highest standards of academic excellence and personal integrity. After being appointed headmistress in November 1980, she officially assumed the position on July 1, 1981.

Ann Longley ventured forth to build unique goals, traditions, and character for Vivian Webb based upon the foundations of Webb School. Most importantly, she strived for a strong partnership between the two schools.

After receiving her M.A. from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, and her post graduate Certificate in Education from the University of Bristol, England, Mrs. Longley taught French and Latin at Toorak College in Australia, Choate Rosemary Hall in Connecticut, and at Webb School. She has three children: Justin, Katie, and Emma; all of whom are currently residing in England.

For the past three years, Mrs. Longley has maintained a flurry of constant activity. Between enhancing the endowment, establishing the reputation of Vivian Webb, and searching out improvements, Ann Longley has hardly had a free moment. Her dedication has contributed greatly to the building of Vivian Webb into what it is currently. Mrs. Longley has aided in the creation of an institution that benefits from its union with Webb School as well as stands with strength and vitality in its own identity.

Through her continuous support, Ann Longley has added a unique character to Vivian Webb. Her idealism and goals have promoted an atmosphere conducive to progress from thirty-four pioneering young women to its full educational complement and its first graduating class. Her departure from Vivian Webb at the end of this year will be a loss. She has accepted the position of headmistress of Roedean School, near Brighton, England, where she will be reunited with her children. We are thankful for all she will leave behind; it is for this reason that we would like to dedicate this section of El Espejo to Ann Longley.

Looking Back

How we have grown and changed over the years . . .
In thinking back, the first years seem so long ago.
For us, they were years of excitement,
A whole new experience in meeting new friends,
Breaking new ground, establishing ourselves.
We now look at those days past with fondness,
Laughing at how those butterflies
Fluttered in our stomachs the very first day of school.
Those were special days to be cherished and remembered forever.
We are rapidly moving along a path of growth,
A thought so remote and hard to imagine a few years back.
Each year, a new face is added to the school,
And now, our first graduates are leaving us.
We are a rare breed in establishing a school;
A special thought that no one can easily take from us . . .

I don't want to repeat
The times we tried to compete
The times I followed you home
The times you screamed on the phone
Every desperate thing I did
Will haunt my memory till I'm dead
Look at all I've been through
Trying to get the best of you
So here we are
It's you and me alone
And no one else around
Your eyes are black
I don't know who you are
You're next to me
But somehow you're too far
Now turn me on
And I'll respond to you
Like a human being
But that's not really true
Let's just this once
Leave well enough alone
And our screams will mean
The scenes we've always known.

But if I am only for myself, what am I?
And if not now, when?

Do not separate yourself from the community; do not be certain of yourself until the day you die; do not judge another until you are in his position . . . and do not say: "When I have the leisure I shall study" — you may never have any leisure.

In a place where no one behaves like a human being, you must strive to be human!

And when the wintry tempest blows,
And January's sleets and snows
Are spread o'er every vale and hill,
With one to tell a merry tale
O'er roasted nuts and humming ale, sit, and care not for the gale; —
And let the world laugh, an' it will.

Bub Lee

The transition from a senior bastion to an integrated dorm has created a schism in the Alamo. Many seniors feel that they have been robbed of their rightful inheritance, while many underclassmen feel threatened by the presence of the Grotto at the entrance of the dorm. All things considered, the transition has been successful in terms of cohabitation.

Many might accuse the Alamo of lacking spirit, but it is simply less vocal in expressing its spirit. To change this would be ill-advised though, as it would disturb the peaceful atmosphere. Even our H.C., Bub Lee, exemplified the quiet and reserved nature of the dorm this year. It has been a pleasant and peaceful place to live, as it does have the most character of any of the dorms. Even the antique plumbing has its own personality.

Jameson

Jameson Dorm

Jameson is one of the oldest dorms on campus, but the dorm desegregation policy has brought us a brand new variety of people to replace the usual residents from the sophomore class.

In our dorm we have everything from a genuine Hong Kong town to a flamboyant Arabian millionaire, a cowboy from Indiana, a rather loud quarterback from the Gauls, two quiet Japanese gentlemen, a rebellious little imp of a Freshman, three manner-lacking sophomores, two crazy blonde HC's, a Ninja, two rock n' roll singers with throaty voices, two members of the Kosher Klub under the height of five feet, four members of the Kosher Klub over the height of six feet, a surfer/swimmer from the beach, three aimlessly wandering freshmen, an inocuous little Oriental freshmen who looks like the first class officer of the U.S.S. Enterprise, two sophomores with computers as their best buddies, two preppies or mods or whatever they are with phones growing out of their ears, and finally, a Korean writer from New Zealand. Well, that just about covers everybody. If I missed anyone, let me know. Hope the Jameson Dorm next year is as interesting in variety as it is this year.

Jones

Jones was our dorm and it was as great as we made it.

It was the students.
It was procrastinating in each others rooms.
It was the late-nighters that followed.
It was putting up with Henriksen's singing and it's competitor, Bishop's heavy metal.
It was never sweeping the halls (except when Uncle Dave "hinted" we should).
It was Jeff Lee's convulsions when we wore our shoes on his carpet.
It was shadows of Webb Ninjas at night.
It was Barker's moldy cleats in the hallway.
It was the roar of Lieff's "Apocalypse Now" soundtrack.
It was suite 16.
It was Parmer's stereo collection.
It was freezing on the way to the showers on a cold winter's morning.
It was the friendships.
It was the good times.

Holt

The Incredible Holt

This was quite a different year for Holt Dorm. Last year Holt consisted of all freshmen, but this year it is comprised of a variety of classes. The cause of the mixture of classes is the desegregation of the dorms.

Although the classes had difficulty coordinating at first, they have united to produce the finest dorm on campus. Seniors Jeff Cannon, Rick Wang, Scott Myers, and HC Hoddy Fritz lead the way to victory in dorm rivalries. The constant raids occurring in the first months included shaving cream and water fights and dorm thrashings. Of course, Holt took charge of the Upper Dorms during these times of need.

This year new dimensions arrived at Holt; such as, the installation of an aviary by a freshman and the use of computers by at least one out of five students.

Residents of Holt dorm have participated in almost every Webb sport, including: football, basketball, water polo, swimming, tennis, soccer, wrestling, cycling, track, cross country, fall play, and Varsity P.E.

Through all the troubles and changes at Webb this year, Holt has successfully united the classes to make this a challenging and rewarding year to all those involved.

The Varsity Football Team, while ending with a losing season, in the words of coach Gerry Gems, "built a lot of character" for the players. Despite Big loses, the team never gave up, and coach Gems is quite optimistic about next year's team which is featuring twenty-one returning lettermen. In this rebuilding season, the team featured such outstanding players as Eric Singelyn and wide-receiver Adam Kline on the offense, and linebacker John Chapman and defensive end Steve Vignolo on the defense.

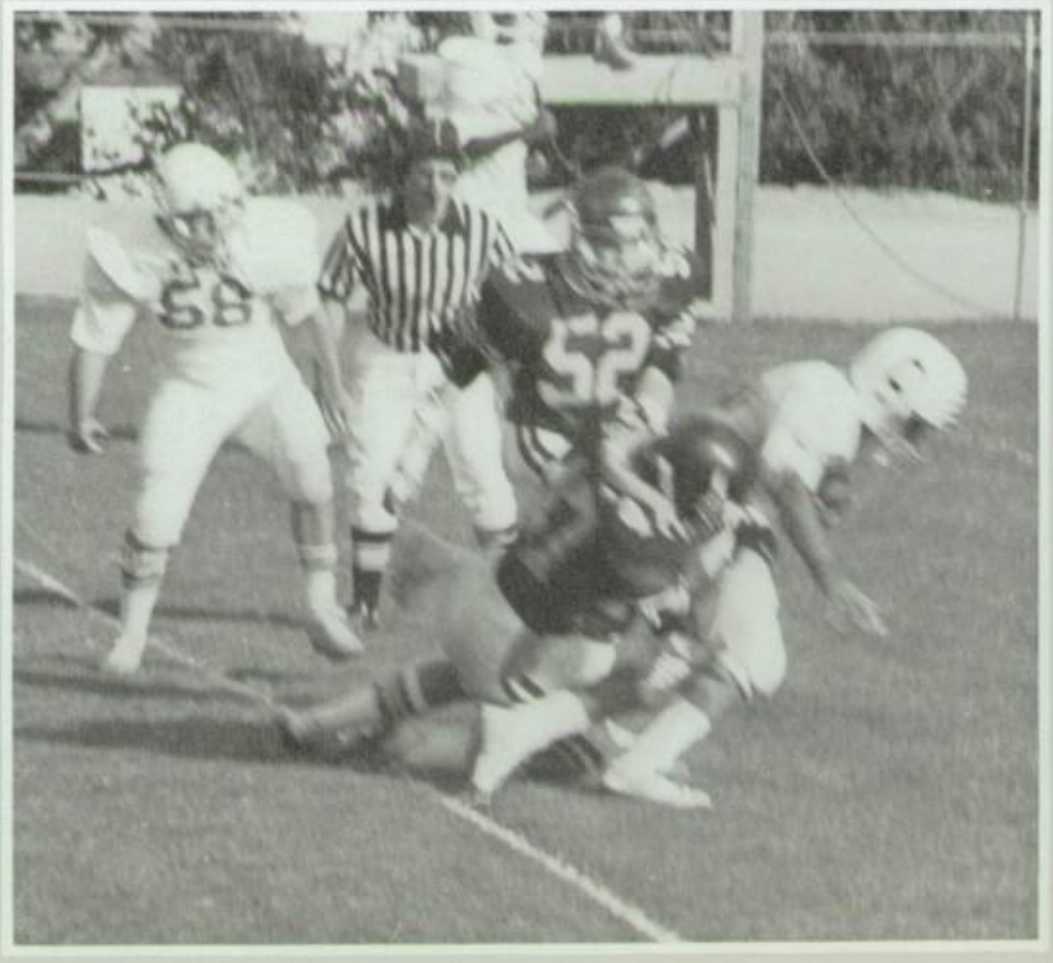
Hill, Marshack, Lee, Moser, Suh, Huber, Liu, Shpall, Singelyn, Moeller.

J.V. football had a difficult and frustrating season, but Coach Sommers felt it was a positive experience for both the players and the coaches. Although the team had a losing season, they felt it was successful for having beaten La Verne at La Verne's home field. The team also set a school record for J.V. for 285 yards of total offense in one game. The two main goals of the program were to develop a sense of the importance of team work and to have the most possible people who were on the team participate. All league team members were Merrill Christenson, Scott Singelyn, Craig Anderson, and Aaron Diaz, the most valuable player. The team was also coached by Nathan Emerson, who helped in the training of the defense and the line.



Varsity Water Polo

The Varsity Water Polo record was handicapped by the team's inability to adapt to rougher games in the early season. It was initially frustrating because the team as a whole was being physically manhandled. Once the season hit a turning point in that aspect and the players began to play better defense, the team began to win. Coach Quinn said that overall the team was young, but played very well together. All-League selections were Emil Fischer, Tom Stellar, Tom Monroe, Thomas Kendall, Roger Miro, and Jim Sheehy. The primary goal of the program was to teach athletes that difficult situations are attainable by virtue of high levels of effort and teamwork. This in turn would reduce the fear of encountering difficult situations in the future.

J.V. Water Polo

For J.V. water polo, this year was unique. In the history of the program, Coach Patterson had never seen so many players come out; in fact, there were twenty-four. The main goals of the program focused on fundamentals and giving the players a feeling of being part of a team. In an effort to give playing experience, the score was often sacrificed. Outstanding players were Julie Grabowski, the team captain; Eric Shultz, the leading scorer; Ben Humber; and Simon Jones. In closing, Coach Patterson said that much enthusiasm and interest was built this year, but with twenty-four players, talent and skill was hard to develop.

Varsity And JV Cross Country

This year's cross-country team was plagued by illness. While the JV team had a winning season, the Varsity team struggled. Overall, the team was young, fun-loving, and enthusiastic, but it was broken up by ill health and smog. Led by runners Robbie Monroe and Ron Kalfuss, the season was competitive and exciting. The team provided its members with improved times, satisfaction, and team spirit. Coach Aaron Hubbard was most impressed with the individual effort shown at the last practice. Each person improved his/her time tremendously. The future holds many positive prospects for this young team. Top row: Kalfuss, Monroe, Seltzer, Yao, O'Hearn, Atsavapranee, Wasson, Peterson, Novack Middle row: Licano, Prince, Louis, Han, Chan, Kearns Bottom row: Baggerly, Doody, Burton, Diamond.

VWS Volleyball

What the volleyball players lacked in victories, they compensated for with spirit and good times. The presence of seniors as well as a large number of volleyball enthusiasts made it possible for Vivian Webb to have both Varsity and JV teams. Kathy Hasse coached the Varsity team while newcomer Carol Groth led the JV players. Both teams progressed vastly in their skills through extensive drilling.

This season, under the guidance of Coach Craig Parker, proved to be most successful. The Vivian Webb tennis team, led by #1 single's player Gwen Sorosky, tied for first place in the Horizon League, continuing on to CIF.

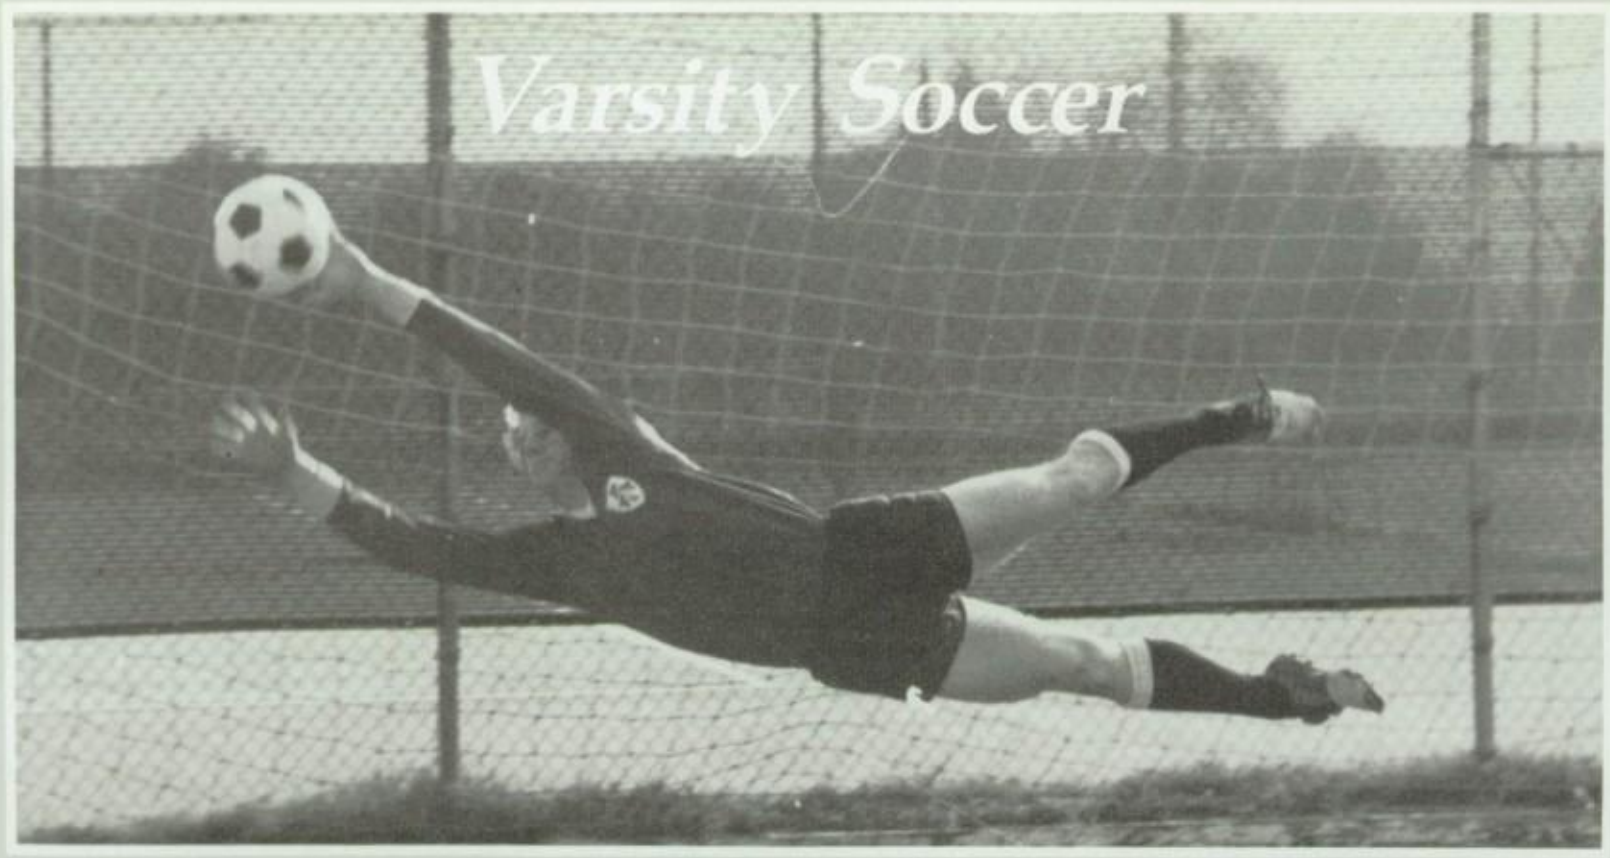
Varsity Soccer



Successes and setbacks characterize the varsity soccer season. Throughout, however, the players showed great heart. Although rookies outnumbered veterans, the season began promisingly; the team played attractive soccer, but without goal-scoring punch. The Christmas tournament revealed both the team's potential and its character. Missing several starters, Webb won three and tied one of its four games. Opening league play against Brentwood, Webb dominated and took an early lead; however, two defensive slips produced two Brentwood goals. Worse, two starters had to be carried off. The Gauls rallied winning three of the next four games. Revenge against Brentwood was sweet but short-lived, as the following day the tired team lost to Chadwick. Again Webb rebounded, thrashing Flintridge 6-0. Despite a disappointing tie with Pasadena Poly, the Gauls kept their title hopes alive by defeating Crossroads. Webb finished half a game behind Flintridge and Brentwood; third place, though below expectations, still ensured a play-off berth.

The season of 1983/1984 for J.V. Soccer was very good. The team ended up with a winning record due to outstanding play by all players including Glenn Huber, the goalie, and Matt Barton. Although the team was made up of almost all juniors, it was led by seniors Bub Lee and Javier Gonzales-Zugasti. The varsity team will look forward to a good season with players who return next year.

Frosh-Soph Soccer this year was a good year. Although their losing record would not indicate this, seven of their eleven games were against 3A schools. Even though the season was plagued by injuries and illness, it was led by Rich Bronshvag, Eddy Harinasuta, Scott Suh, John Suh, and David Louis. The most improved player had to be Craig Grossman who made an outstanding contribution to the team along with Mark Selzer. The goal of the program was to build a sense of team spirit and to get the group to play as a team.

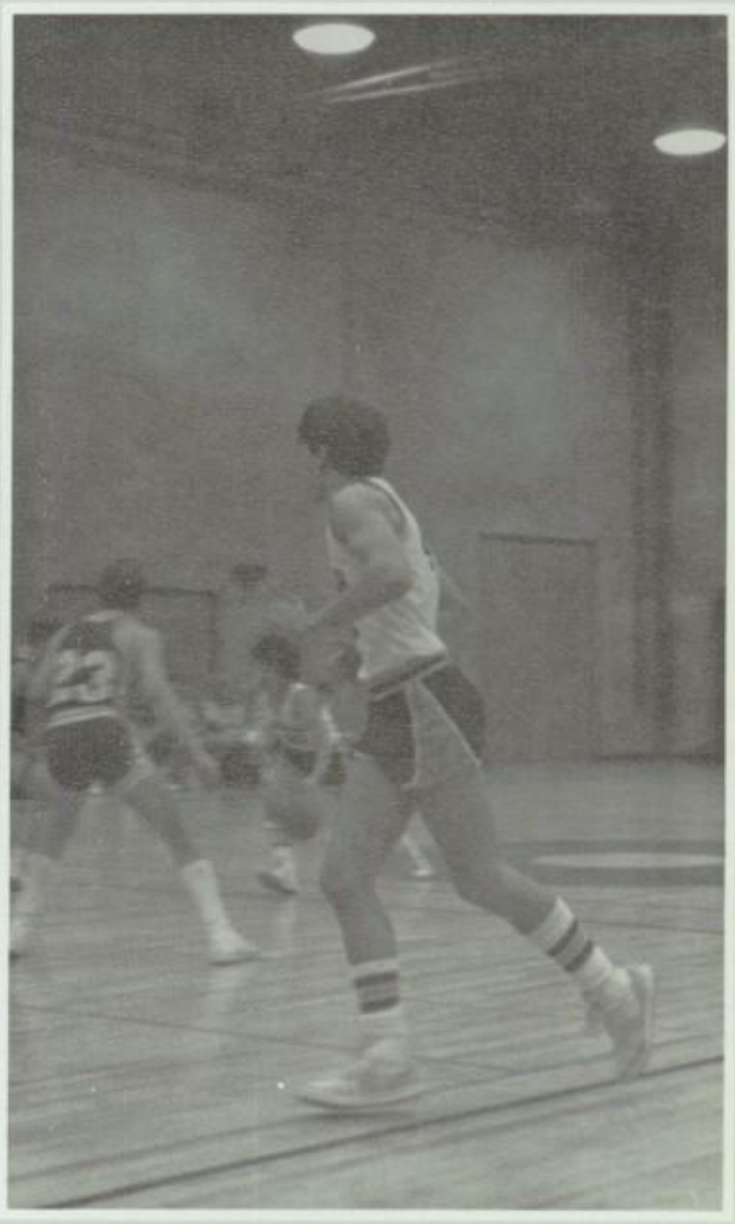
STANDING: Coach Figura, Manager Stoltz, Singelyn, Berne, Calderoni, Chapman, Manager Takata. KNEELING: Su, Yiu, Aoki, Lee, Zaske.

The Varsity Basketball Team said farewell to some outstanding senior ballplayers and hello to hopefuls for next year. Senior Team Captain, Kevin Berne, made 1st Team All-League while sophomore, Jesus Calderoni, made 2nd Team. Justin Su played a great season and received Honorable-Mention honors. Senior Scott Meyers, commented that, "we had a really good team, but we also had our ups and downs." The downs included frequent illnesses and vacation breaks that cut into practice-time. Coach Figura remarked that the team, "had some fun," during its season. The Gauls came out of it all with a respectable 9-8 overall record. Some felt that the season was well worth its while after Webb thoroughly trounced rival La Verne both here and away. The massive crowd participation and support was appreciated by all our players. We can look forward to good results next year from leading underclassmen: Chapman, Calderoni, Emery, and Singelyn.



J.V. Basketball

This was a hard season for the J.V. basketball team. The team was composed almost entirely of sophomores and headed by a new coach, Steve Macy. The team did show improvement through all its hardships from illness and injury, shown by their losing to a team by ten points only to return and beat the same team by twenty-three points at the end of the season. The team was led by juniors Colin Bishop and Adam Kline, but all league nominations included Scott Singlyn at forward and Mike Ball at guard.

VWS Basketball

Despite having to undergo many major changes this year, the Vivian Webb Varsity basketball team had an exciting and interesting year in which the girls acquired and improved many skills. A coaching change in the middle of the season was successfully dealt with. Also the team was faced with eight players not even enough people to make two teams. Many of last year's players including two all-leaguers and one honorable mention player, did not play this season. However, the team fought on. In a league with five other schools, the team had a rather disappointing season winning two games out of thirteen, though two players were selected to the All-League team: Kim Bauer, guard; Julia Stubbelbine, center. The VWS basketball team managed to overcome a few odds this season and will hopefully have a winning season next year.

The Varsity team under third year coach Ted Clarke wrestled to a 2-2 league record. Lead by Senior team captains Bijan Gorji and Roland Dilley, the team had it's best season in many years. Coach Clarke, however, feels that next year's team which features many returning third year gold medal players will do much better. The team was plagued by sickness at the end of the season, but wrestlers Dilley, Rubin, Clements and Vignolo all made it to C.I.F. competition.

Webb's baseball team have had a positive start to a hopefully strong season. Coaches Whyte and Shepard have high hopes for a CIF playoff spot with all the good, raw talent in the twenty-seven players that have come out this year. Lead by seniors Aldrich, Shernoff, Su, and Taves, the team has greatly improved with the use of a new batting cage and backstop as well as a three day instruction period by Tommy Davis, a former Dodger. The coaches feel that this is the beginning of a four to six year period in which Webb's baseball program will have considerable strength.

Varsity Tennis

"We hope to go to CIF and win!" says Craig Parker, Webb's new tennis coach, who comes to us from a top-ranked tennis college. The varsity squad entered the Olympic League with high hopes to win most of its sixteen matches. Lead by singles player Saab, the team is made up of a diverse group. There are two freshmen, Robbie Monroe and Eddy Harinasuta, playing singles while there is a toss-up for the number one doubles team between Gorgi/Yiu and Fritz/Yang. Although the early season was struck with illness the team still hopes to do as well or better than last year.

Webb's j.v. tennis team is characterized by good attitudes and high morale during its short 1984 season. The young team, made up of one junior, three sophomores, and four freshmen, has entered a new league which looks to be competitive but promising. The team, lead by Rubin and Lombardelli, will make next year's varsity squad strong.

Webb's track team for the 1984 season will not be as strong as it has been in the past, but, with a little luck and a lot of hard work, it may be able to live up to its past outstanding record. The team is made up of more than seventy people and is coached by Mr. Beresford, an experienced long distance runner. There are even enough girls to have a real team that has participants in every event. Coach Gems said to look for Fenne, Diamond and Kalfus to do very well in the distance events as well as Calderoni in the discus. Lead by seniors Fowler and Little, the team has high hopes even though the early season was plauged by sickness and many members from last year's team have not returned.

Swimming

Off to a 7-0 start, the prospects look good for another season without defeat and another league championship. The team is swimming in an improved ten school league, but is still looking forward to its April 17 meet against its rival Flintridge. There will be many CIF contenders including returning swimmers Miro and Chapellet. Last year's standout, Andres Johnson, left many holes which are being filled by Baker, D'Arcy, and Monroe. With new-comer Fukuda, Cannon's diving, and the improvement of Stellar, the team really does have an excellent chance to repeat last year's league championship.

The VWS team has doubled in size this year and is a definite contendor for a higher placing in league championships than last year's third. Returning swimmers Julie Grabowski and Becky Sutter are joined by freshmen Katy Carr and Julie Presecan to make up the nucleus of a very strong girls' team. There are also contendors for CIF, mainly Julie Grabowski in the 200 free. The team is made up of some fifteen members, including Christine Carr and Christie Armstrong who consistently work hard not only in meets but in practice as well.

"It's the President's sport!" says Dr. White, the coach of the golf team for the 1984 season. This year's team is very young, made up of five sophomores, four juniors, and one senior. The team will play in eighteen matches including at least one free-lance tournament, so that the team may qualify for CIF playoffs. Shigato Aoki accomplished a par round of golf, the first such round in competition in five years. The team, lead by Aoki, Diaz, Henrikson, and Anderson, has the main goal of winning but also playing well and improving.

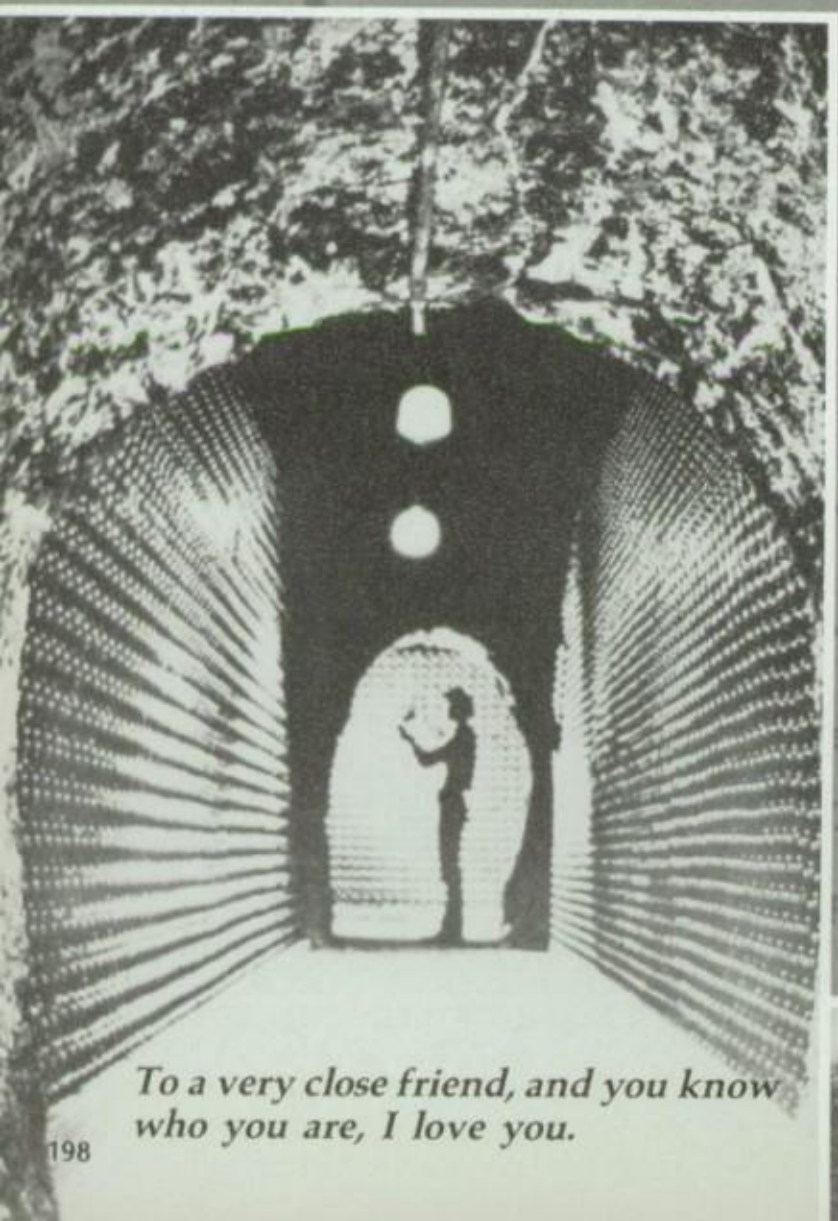
Just remember-
When you think all is lost,
the future remains.

I'd rather have a bottle in front of me, than a frontal lobotomy.

Life's a bitch and then you die!

Just remember - Webb is a four letter word too. Four letter words are often connotative of the extremes of pain and pleasure, and Webb has given me much of both. Without pain there can be no pleasure and with out suffering & struggle there can be no achievement. I don't know where I would be without four letter words.

Everyone will always try to talk you out of things, but you have to do what-ever makes you happy.



To a very close friend, and you know who you are, I love you.

R.E.M.

I'm a nice guy, but I don't love you I just wanna sleep with you.

And in my darkest hour
When I can find no light
My goals are out of sight
And nothing warms the night
I close my eyes
And with such sweet surprise
I can be anywhere
I can be anyone

I'm sitting in my room, and my mom and my dad came in
They pull up a chair and they sit down
They go, "Mike, we need to talk to you."
And I go, "Okay, what's the matter?"
They go, "Me and your mom, we know that lately
You've been having a lot of problems,
And you've been going off for no reason,
And we're afraid you're going to hurt somebody,
And we're afraid you're going to hurt yourself.
So we decided that it would be in your best interest
If we put you somewhere where you could get the help that you need."
And I go, "Wait! What are you talking about?!
We decided, my best interests?
How do you know what my best interest is?
How can you say what my best interest is?
What are you trying to say, I'm crazy?
When I went to your schools,
I went to your churches,
I went to your institutional learning
faculities?"

The Road goes ever on and on
Down from the door where it began.
Now far ahead the Road has gone,
And I must follow if I can,
Pursuing it with eager feet,
Until it joins some larger way,
Where many pathes and errands meet.
And whither then? I cannot say.

Sing hey! for the bath at the close of the day
That washes the weary mud away!
A loon is he that will not sing:
O! Water Hot is a noble thing!

O! Sweet is the sound of falling rain,
And the brook that leaps from hill to plain;
But better than rain or rippling streams
Is Water Hot that smokes and steams.

O! Water cold we may pour at need
Down a thirsty throat and be glad indeed;
But better is beer, if drink we lack,
And Water Hot poured down the back.

O! Water is fair that leaps on high
In a fountain white beneath the sky;
But never did fountain sound so sweet
As splashing Hot Water with my feet!

"Virgin land of forest green, dark and stormy plains,
here all life abounds
Sunlit valley, mountain fields, unseen in the rain,
here all life abounds
No man rules this land, no human hand has soiled this paradise
Waiting patiently, so much to see, so rich in Earth's delights
Painted desert, sequined sky, stars that fill the night here all life abounds
Rivers flowing to the sea, sunshine pure and bright here all life abounds
No man rules this land, no human hand has soiled this paradise
Waiting patiently, so much to see, so rich in Earth's delights
So the maiden lies in waiting, for the sails to reach the shore
Land of beauty and abundance, innocent, you opened wide your door
Wanderers found the waiting treasure, full of gifts beyond their measure
Milk and honey for our pleasure
Across the sea there came a multitude, sailing ships upon the wave
Filled with vision of Utopia, and the freedom that they crave Songs for America
Ravage, plunder, see no wonder, rape and kill and tear asunder
Chop the forest, plow it under
Highways scar the mountainsides, buildings to the sky, people all around
Houses stand in endless rows, sea to shining sea, people all around
So we rule this land, and here we stand upon our paradise,
Dreaming of a place, our weary race is ready to arise.

Be cheerful, sir. Our revels are ended.
These our actors, as I fortold you, were all spirits
And are melted into air, into thin air; and, like
The baseless fabric of this vision, the cloud-capped

The great globe itself, yea, all which it inherit,
Shall dissolve . . . We are such stuff as dreams are Made on, and our little life is rounded with a sleep.

Submit to pressure from peers and you move down
to their level.
Speak up for your own beliefs
and you invite them
up to your level.
If you move
with the crowd
you'll get no further than the crowd
When 40 million people believe in a dumb idea
it's still a dumb idea
Simple swimming
with the tide
leaves you nowhere. So if you believe in something that is good, honest
and bright — stand up for it. Maybe your peers will get smart and drift
your way.

Life is so strange when you don't know
How can you tell, where you're going to
You can't be sure of any situation
Something can change and they you won't know
You ask yourself
Where do we go from here
It seems so all to near
Just as far beyond as I can see
I still don't know what this all means to me.

Thank you family, friends, and faculty

When our weary world was young
The struggle of the Ancients first began
The gods of Love and Reason
Sought alone to rule the fate of man
They battled through the ages
But neither force would yield
Their people were divided
Every soul a battlefield.

Pain in my head
Shifting and drifting
Mechanical music
Adrenalin surge.

So the maples formed a union
and demanded equal rights
The oaks are just too greedy,
We will make them give us light.
Now there's no more oak oppression
For they passed a noble law
And the trees are all kept equal
By hatchet,
Axe,
and saw . . .

To seek the scarred river Alph
To walk the caves of ice
To break my fast on honeydew
And drink the milk of paradise . . .

Please excuse the pen, I got tired of useing a typewriter with only 23 letters! Well, this obviously isn't an ad. As a lowly managing editor you get stuck any place that there is room. This is the place! At this point I'm supposed to talk about the great times I had working on the yearbook. To put it bluntly, the yearbook has been a real pain this year. Now, with my section (and almost everyone else's) finished with an hour before I leave, I'll be glad when it's over. There are alot of thankless jobs on this campus, whether it be Dean, senior store worker, student rep., sanitary engineer, or H.C. I can't think of any pleasant jobs on El Espejo!! Maybe, and I'm guilty too, if we paid each other alot more compliments - instead of looking for them - rather than nagging all the time like certain students - it's funny, it is mostly seniors, the ones who have been here the longest. This place is not so bad, if you think it is - why the Hell are you here? I guess I don't understand. Other people are too busy getting Webb to be what they want - instead of what it is. Webb is. Period. To fight that is novel but it seems to me pretty pointless - Webb is too conservative..... It is sort of wierd being a senior. A Billion things have happened since I came on this campus the first time, both Good and Bad. Ironically two pictures sit here in front of me, one was taken in my freshman year. We're all in our undergear with stupid hats on. Out of the five freshman - I'm the only one left. Why Who? What does it take to get through Webb? I'm not qualified to say - I still have three months to go, However, since I still have room left, I'll put down my ideas. Hard work is the first that comes to mind. - but what the Heck is "Hard Work"? Maybe a better word would be "dedication." Not like the one at the beginning, silly. Webb demands alot. It is much easier to get along if you believe in what the place is trying to do. Of course you won't believe in the Honor Code if you don't follow it. Webb is not for everyone, and even in the senior class, not everyone is for Webb. Those who make it can benefit. It isn't a bad place depending on where you stand." This ends my ramblings of an Editor. I hope you can see my point.

Bill Fowler

Thanks
